About Us...

FlexProfessionals was founded by three partners, who are experienced business women and understand the need for and the value of part-time professional employment. We match companies looking for seasoned part-time employees with professionals who are looking for meaningful part-time work.

Unlike traditional staffing agencies, we reach out to an 'untapped' talent pool of professionals who work at competitive rates and no benefits in exchange for flexible work opportunities. Our candidates are seasoned professionals with top-notch skills in business areas such as:

Experience In.....
